

Danie's Immigration Story

By Jameson Grosso

Hello my name is Jameson. My school is high tech elementary. My project is to interview an immigrant. I interviewed Danie and Danie loved his home country. This is Danie's Immigration Story. Danie was born in South Africa:).

Danie loved his home country because it was beautiful, but it had a lot of violence. Danie had to carry a 9mm pistol in high school because it was so dangerous so he left when he was 24 because it was too scary and dangerous. Danie brought a little keychain that his mom had and he told his mom that he wanted it when he got his first car. He wishes that he could have brought his family with him to the US. He has lived in America for 24 years. Danie had 5 siblings and his youngest brother came with him.

Danie moved to the United States and he flew to San Diego. It took him a while to get used to American culture like food it was different. He lived in San Diego for a while and then he moved to San Francisco. Danie needed a job so he became an engineer because he loved to build things.

Now he designs buildings. Danie taught me immigration doesn't try to keep people out, but rather work with people who obey American law.
