

Jesus' Immigration Story

By Khloe

My name is Khloe Fernandez. I am in third grade at High Tech High. We are learning about immigration. I interviewed my dad and interviewing means asking questions to a person that is from somewhere else.

Jesus grew up in Mexico Michoacan with 2 brothers. Jesus graduated from high school. But sadly one brother died after Jesus graduated from high school so Jesus had one brother left.

Jesus got a job in Mexico. He left late around 8:00 in the morning and came back early around 5:00 in the afternoon so he spent 9 hours at his work.

One day the government told Jesus he had to come to the U.S.A. if not his papers would get expired. And he wouldn't be able to come to the U.S.A. So his mom took him to the airport and Jesus got on an airplane.

When Jesus came to the U.S.A. he was a teenager. He met a woman named Yolanda and she immigrated from Mexico City. A few years later Jesus asked Yolanda "Will you marry me?" Yolanda said "Yes" with excitement.

When Jesus got married he and Yolanda went on a hot air balloon and celebrated 8 anniversaries. Then in 2012 on August 12 they had me then they had my little sister Zoey on June 4th in 2015. Then Jesus called his mom from Salinas, California to take care of us and Jesus got himself a family: Me Zoey Yolanda and him.

One thing that I learned about Jesus' immigration story is that one of his brothers died after he graduated from high school in Mexico. Also, I did not know that when my dad immigrated to the United States, he was only a teenager. And then he met Yolanda, my mother, here in the United States. Yolanda was born in Mexico City, but they met here in the United States.
